i-med Research Scholarships for graduated young scientists

In 2019, the Medical University of Innsbruck offers again research scholarships for graduated young scientists.

This is a bridge funding for graduates of the Medical University of Innsbruck, who have the prospect of a position in a third party funded research project (eg FWF, ÖNB, EU) or for bridging between two funding projects. Furthermore, the scholarship can be used to carry out final work in a third-party funded research project.

For students in doctoral colleges a special justification is necessary, why an extension beyond the already financed time is necessary.

Only online application under following address: <http://fld.i-med.ac.at/gar>

i-med scholarship for short stays abroad (Promotion for graduated young scientists)

In 2019, the Medical University of Innsbruck offers again scholarships for short stays abroad for graduated young scientists.

These scholarships are grants for short stays abroad to learn new techniques and methods. The attendance to congresses and meetings is excluded. The subsidies correspond to the current rates of the regulation for travel expenses (Reisegebühreenvorschrift, group 2a, only day-fees, no travel costs).

Only online application under following address: <http://fld.i-med.ac.at/gar>
